Year Completed: 2023

Price $1,250

In 2017, while living in Jakarta, I experienced an earthquake caused by a volcanic eruption. Amidst the chaos, I felt compelled to capture the moment on canvas.

Guided by faith, I painted "Eruption," using red to represent the volcanic fury. This artwork symbolizes the divine presence I felt during the turmoil, offering hope and strength. As Jakarta rebuilt, "Eruption" became a beacon of resilience and faith, reminding us to trust in God's plan and never lose hope.

SEVEN

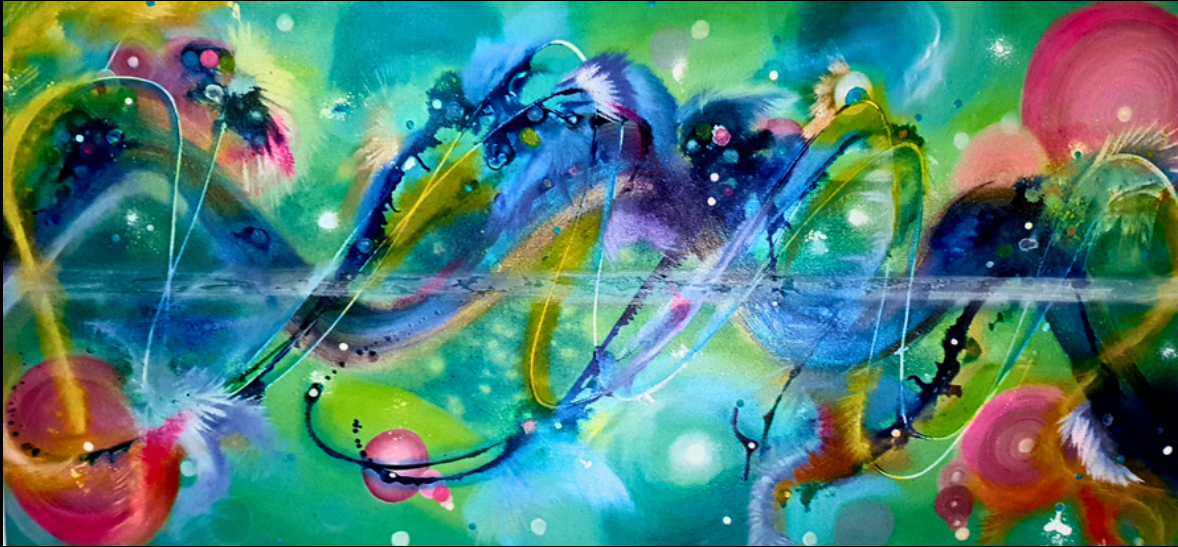

Artist : Michaela Antoinette
Materials : Acrylic, AR technology, glows in the dark
Dimensions: 24" x 30"
Year Completed: 2017

Price $ 7,000

This piece was a journey through my subconscious. As the painting revealed itself on the canvas, I began to see the volcano emerge and I added in the light bodies/suns and their halos. It evolved into a flowing primordial volcano with emerging suns/energy bodies along with the sun in the sky as the observer. The seven in this instance is higher creative forces watching over and guiding lower creative forces... (a recurring theme in 'The Infinity Collection ' part 1). Seven is known as a sacred number throughout ancient history across cultures and ages. The seven main chakras within the body... Whichever "seven" allegory resonates within you...apply it here. (The same eye in the sky was seen in the clouds over Kazakhstan. My mother saw a random news article online after I finished 'Seven'. They called it the 'eye of God'.)

BORN IN SINE

Artist : Michaela Antoinette

The DNA helix, the sine wave, the movement of water, wind, sound and light = birth... life. A continuous wave of ups and downs...light and darkness. Bursts of excitement and moments of calm amongst the chaos. Our inner and outer Universe vibrating and clashing loudly. The middle line highlighted in white and glass gel beads represents the earth plane. We are part of the all moving as one.

Creation. (NASA found this painting with the AR component in outer space 3 years after I created this piece.) They said it was a mysterious energy source that birthed new stars.

THE RIPPLE EFFECT

Surrounding coral reefs as they are seen from above...pink sands glistening in the summer's sun...Bermuda blue seas...what locals see...the local scene...look into the eye...can you see? The light reveals ripples across the surface...we're optical illusions...you've only seen your mirrored reflection...imperfectly inverted...the elusive delusions of perfection...as you look into the eye...you're now locally seen...even when your reflection is refracted and fragmented, pieces of you are seemingly distorted and blurred...your presence still...waters a need...the flutter of the tiniest butterfly wings can create a gigantic wave...ebbing and overflowing...even though we are a mere dot in the Atlantic sea...we are a unique gem globally...which is mirrored by your presence in the present...individually and collectively...no matter how insignificant we may seem...we are seen.
